ALLIED AIRBORNE ARMIES IN HOLLAND

American Wildcat Division Invades Angaur Island

All Objectives Gained and Yank Losses Are Few

Marines on Peleliu Find Going Tough

By RAY CRONIN

Associated Press Staff Writer

The American army took another crack at Japan's crumbling arc of Pacific island defenses Sunday when soldiers of the Eighty-first (Wildcat) division swarmed ashore on Angaur, in the Palau islands just six miles southwest of Peleliu where Yank marines already have captured an airstrip and wiped out 1,400 furiously battling Japanese soldiers.

First Objectives Reached

United States Pacific fleet headquarters officially reported the invasion of Angaur island and stated "all initial objectives have been gained against resistance which so far has been relatively light."

Angaur is a small phosphate island, heavily wooded. While the island has no airstrip it may be found suitable for construction of a field.

It is tough going for the marines on Peleliu yet they were gaining ground against strong opposition. They took the airfield, smashed several Japanese tank-led counterattacks and in severe fighting advanced against strong Nippon positions on ridge tops north of the airstrip and the landing beaches.

Air Attacks Continue

In the Molucca islands, 300 miles south of the Philippines, troops of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's command reached objectives on the perimeter of Morotai island, which was invaded September 14, while air power struck heavily at Japanese shipping and adjacent islands.

As Pitoe airstrip on Morotai was being prepared for Allied use, a record load of 210 tons of bombs cascaded down on Halmahera, eleven miles to the southwest, today's (Mon.) communique reported. Three Japanese ships were destroyed in the Celebes-Ceram sector, west and south of Halmahera, including a 3,000-ton transport. A smaller craft also was beached. The blows came a day after the report of a 185-ton bombing of Celebes and a 125-ton attack on Halmahera airstrips.

Battle Raging For Po Valley

By NOLAN NORGARD

ROME, Sept. 17 (AP)—In a desperate effort to prevent an Allied breakthrough into the Po river valley the Germans were hurling big Tiger and Panther tanks at Canadian and Greek troops of the Eighth army who were reported today to be only two miles from Rimini, eastern anchor of the Gothic defense line in Northern Italy.

An Allied communique said Greek and Canadian veterans were locked in a fierce struggle with the Germans for the heavily fortified town of San Martino on Monte L'Abate, two miles from Rimini. Capture of Rimini would permit Eighth army armor to sweep to the Po valley and cut across the rear of the German line.

To the west on the Fifth army front the communique said bitter fighting was raging as American, British and Indian troops pressed into the center of the Germans' last prepared defenses in Northern Italy.

The line on which the Germans were facing Fifth army attacks was officially described as "the strongest prepared defensive positions yet encountered in Italy."

Fifth army headquarters said infantrymen working their way carefully into the prepared German positions made "significant but small gains" against Nazi gun emplacements covering every advantageous approach route.

An announcement said the Brazilian expeditionary force was "now in combat on the Fifth army sector." It was not disclosed whether the Brazilians were in the mountain area in the center of the Gothic line or farther west near the coast where Fifth army troops were reported to have captured Via Regio, six miles north of the Serchio river.

French To Fight Against Japanese

PARIS, Sept. 17 (AP)—Participation of French armed forces in the war against Japan along the same lines as participation against Germany was predicted today by the Communist daily newspaper, Humanite.

The newspaper deplored the fact that France was "not consulted" in the Quebec conference of President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill since, it said, France has a great interest in the Pacific war because French Indo-China is one of her main colonies.

"A French expeditionary corps is going to participate in the final campaign against the Japanese," the newspaper continued. "The French ought to be the first to liberate Indo-China with the Indo-Chinese."

British Fleet To Help in War Against Japan

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17 (AP)—Britain's assignment in the war against Japan is understood to be primarily a series of amphibious operations against the Malaya-Sumatra flank of Japan's crumbling empire.

This means the Quebec conference of President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill confirmed a division of the Pacific-Asiatic battle-front into four general sectors:

Four General Sectors

The British sector southwest of the Philippines.

The New Guinea-Philippines area under General Douglas MacArthur. The central sector embracing Port Moresby and the Japanese homeland under Admiral Chester W. Nimitz.

The Kurile islands area, also under Nimitz, which will become of paramount importance if Russia gets into the war.

British Fleet Ready

The British already have a big fleet based on Ceylon, and may be expected to move forward from there toward Singapore, building up their bases and supply lines as they go.

Meanwhile, American forces, with Australian and Allied strength, probably will already have it the enemy's heart, in the Philippines, and his head, in or near Japan itself. If those two campaigns go quickly, the work in Britain's sector may be chiefly a tough clean-up job. If the American drives go slowly, the British will have their hands full. Much depends, too, on whether the Japs decide to make fanatical actions in the Malaya-Dutch East stands or fight normal rearward India area.

The date for ending the war in Europe, which is the key to the next few months of fighting against Japan, is understood not to have been (Continued on Page 2, Col. 8)

Legion To Act on Plan To Enroll Servicemen Now in Active Service

CHICAGO, Sept. 17 (AP)—A contest over proposals to permit the American Legion to enroll soldiers and sailors now on active duty developed today on the eve of the organization's annual convention.

The first on-the-scene move was made by the standing committee on constitution and by-laws. In a report accepted by the National Executive committee, it recommended that no action be taken now to request Congress to amend the Legion's incorporation act so that men now serving in the armed forces may be eligible immediately for membership.

The document said that if the war ended within the next year, the

200,000 Germans May Be Trapped By Red Offensive

Russians 14 Miles From Latvian Goal

By TOM YARBROUGH

LONDON, Monday, Sept. 18 (AP)—Russian troops have fought their way within fourteen miles of Riga, Latvian capital on the Baltic sea, in a three-day-old offensive aimed at crushing two German armies in Latvia and Estonia, estimated at 200,000 men, Berlin broadcasts disclosed last night.

Inside imperiled Warsaw, Polish patriots aided by parachuted Russian supplies, battled the Germans in the center of the Polish capital as the Red army rained shells on German west bank positions along the Vistula river opposite Russian-held Praga.

Report German Attacks

Moscow only indirectly admitted that a big Soviet offensive was underway in the north. Its daily communique told of heating off heavy German counterattacks west of Jelgava, which is twenty-five miles southwest of Riga, and Berlin said that these counterattacks were aimed at pinching off the Red army salient which had been driven through German lines twenty-three miles to Balone.

The Soviet communique did not mention the Warsaw sector but told of the capture of five more localities in the drive on Targumure, German-Hungarian stronghold in Transylvania. Among the points taken was Gurghul rail station, eighteen miles to the northeast. Another Soviet column, however, was only six miles east of Targumure.

Heavy Fighting in West

German broadcasts also told of heavy fighting farther west in the Turda sector, south of Cluj, Transylvanian capital.

The Red army's many-sided drive on Hungary, last big Axis satellite, was accompanied by heavy Soviet air attacks on key rail points, the bulletin said.

On Saturday night long-range Soviet bombers struck Satu-Mare, eighty miles northwest of Cluj, and Sap, fifty miles northwest of Satu-Mare. Both of these towns are important funnels through which the German and Hungarian armies are shipping supplies into Transylvania and also into Slovakia in an effort to halt the Red army push from Southern Poland toward Northern Hungary.

Hard Fighting Reported

In the northern offensive in Latvia and Estonia the Germans said upwards of 400,000 Russians strongly supported by tanks and planes were trying to split up and annihilate Nazi Sixth and Eighteenth armies under Col. Gen. Georg Lindemann. These troops have been in an exposed position for weeks.

Besides the "unbelievably ferocious fighting" around Balone on the Nazi radio commentator, Col. Ernest von Hammer, reported two other critical areas.

One strong Soviet group was attacking toward Riga from Madona in the east. The Russians last were reported in Ergli, fifty-five miles from Riga, in this sector.

Estonia the other admitted Soviet penetrations were in the Enngori river in a twenty-mile sector between Valga and Lake Võrts. Outflanking Valga on the north these Red army units were only fifty-eight miles from the eastern side of the Gulf of Riga.

Canadian Troops Attack Boulogne

WITH THE FIRST CANADIAN ARMY IN FRANCE, Sept. 17—Canadian forces attacking Boulogne swept through German defenses late in the night and captured the town of Wimereux on the coast about two miles from the port, while infantry assaulting the Mont Lambert defense belt were fighting in the midst of enemy fortifications.

A four-hour air attack on the Boulogne perimeter by Lancasters and Halifaxes which co-ordinated with a full-scale ground operation was reported tonight to have been successful in neutralizing the German defensive system while the assault went forward.

After bombers blasted German concrete positions at the southern approaches to the city, infantry stormed the entire northeastern defense line.

Infantry attacking north of the highway which runs across hills into Boulogne from Saint-Omer made quick progress and tonight were only a short distance from the coast at Wimereux, approaching Boulogne itself.

Troops fighting entrenched Germans atop Mont Lambert were meeting stubborn resistance but made quick progress and tonight were only a short distance from the coast at Wimereux, approaching Boulogne itself.

The fact that German troops still in fighting condition have a wedge at the rear of their flank has been a strategic restraint upon Gen. Ivan Cherniakhovsky, whose Third White Russian army thickly lines the Lithuanian-German east Prussian border.

LONDON, Sept. 17 (AP)—The Netherlands government in London tonight ordered a general strike of all railway personnel in Holland.

Destroyer, Two Coast Guard Vessels Lost

Three Ships Sunk During Hurricane

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17 (AP)—The navy announced tonight the loss of a destroyer and two small coast guard vessels in the recent Atlantic hurricane with a heavy loss of lives on the destroyer.

The vessels were the 1850-ton destroyer Warrington, with a complement of 230 men, and the coast guard vessels Jackson and Bedloe, both 125-foot patrol craft.

Some survivors, including the destroyer's commanding officer, Commander Samuel Frank Quarles of Nashville, Va., have been picked up by rescue craft. No information was given as to the commander of the Jackson, Lt. J.G. Norman D. Call, and the Bedloe's skipper, Lt. (JG.) August S. Hess.

The navy indicated the casualty list was as yet incomplete, with the department saying "as soon as names of survivors can be ascertained."

The navy gave no information on the location of the sinkings or of the exact time they occurred.

The Bedloe was formerly known as the Antietam.

The two coast guard craft had normal complements of about thirty-five men each.

Quarles is a graduate of the Naval academy and formerly served on the U.S.S. Nevada. He was born in Lennix, Va., Jan. 23, 1911, and is the son of Mrs. John T. Quarles of Nashville.

Imperialism For U. S. Urged By Beaverbrook

LONDON, Monday, Sept. 18 (AP)—The Daily Express said today that imperialism would be a good thing for the United States, and if that was to be the American policy after the war, Britain should do everything it can to help.

"If British imperialism is good for the British then American imperialism is good for the Americans," said the Express, which is owned by Cabinet Minister Lord Beaverbrook. "There is a section of American opinion arguing in favor of United States imperialism after the war," the newspaper said, "and here in this country concern and apprehension are sometimes expressed in high places on that account. Such fears are quite out of place."

Declaring imperialism had made Britain "wealthy and wise," the Express said it had "equipped our people with a far horizon."

"American imperialists want a foothold in Dakar and in the East and Far East," the paper added. "They seek control of those lands in the Pacific which have been a source of menace and misery to them when held by the Japanese."

"Is it good for Britain, too? Of course. The outlook of the two peoples necessarily takes the same form and seeks similar expression."

Gigantic Russian Offensive Looms

By DANIEL DE LUCE

MOSCOW, Monday, Sept. 18 (AP)—Battle reports from the Baltic sector bear out the belief here that if a big Red army offensive has not yet started there it will come very soon.

German attempts to knock it off balance already are apparent in last night's communique which said that the Russians had beaten off heavy tank and infantry attacks west of Jelgava, twenty-five miles southwest of Riga.

This was the first time in weeks that the Red command had reported ground fighting of more than local significance in the area where Gen. Ivan Bagramian's First Baltic army holds the main Latvian road and rail communication. German broadcasts say the all-out Soviet offensive has begun.

The Russians said they had knocked out 106 tanks and destroyed 101 enemy planes Saturday, and the majority of these apparently were suffered by the Germans in the Baltic theater. They made a three-day total of 315 tanks and 303 planes.

Since the German northern army group was barely saved from destruction last month, by desperate counterattacks, Bagramian's troops and those of two and possibly three other armies have been massing for a new push.

The fact that German troops still in fighting condition have a wedge at the rear of their flank has been a strategic restraint upon Gen. Ivan Cherniakhovsky, whose Third White Russian army thickly lines the Lithuanian-German east Prussian border.

LONDON, Sept. 17 (AP)—The Netherlands government in London tonight ordered a general strike of all railway personnel in Holland.

Dark Spot in the War:

American Military Effort in China Threatened by Latest Jap Advances

By CLYDE A. FARNSWORTH

KUNMING, China, Sept. 17 (AP)—The United States Fourteenth Air Force has destroyed and virtually abandoned its air bases near Kweilin, provisional capital in Kwangsi province, it was disclosed today, in the face of a grave Japanese threat not only to that city but also to the whole structure of the American military effort in this country.

Chinese reverses in the Hunan-Kwangsi area in recent months have brought among some observers here a critical re-evaluation of the Chinese war potential—reverses which generally are put down to ineptness and confusion of command, lack of integrated communications and many other deficiencies.

Japs Advance Steadily

(The Chinese high command said that one of four Japanese columns striking westward from Canton had pushed to within fifty-three miles of Kweilin while farther north a column pounding down from Hunan province split at Taohsien, ninety miles east of Kweilin. One element pressed on west for a frontal assault which the other cut southwest in an apparent attempt to encircle the city from the south.)

There has never been any question of the valor of the Chinese soldier.

"In guts he can give us lessons," said one American.

But his handling against the present Japanese drive has resulted in collapse of plans for the defense of Kweilin on its distant approaches.

Chinese Army Destroyed

Chungking has issued orders which have indicated a disregard or a lack of knowledge of field situations. An example was the declaration of one army which evidently for reasons of "face" was ordered to drive back into Hunan railway city of Hengyang when it might have been digging in for the defense of Kweilin.

This army disintegrated when the Japanese threatened to envelop it and survivors took to the hills to fight on as guerrillas.

As an example of the Chinese confusion on the eastern front, 200 Japanese or puppet plain clothed men lured a whole division into position for destructive flanking attacks by a major Japanese force near Hengyang.

One hears that the little artillery the Chinese had, including a few pack howitzers which the Americans furnished for training, was used in a generally ineffective manner.

On at least one occasion the guns were so placed they could not even reach the Chinese front lines.

Many Mistakes Made

The Chinese made the mistake of sending a handful of old Russian-manufactured tanks against a Japanese anti-tank gun without artillery support, although such support was available and lost two of them.

At times Chinese infantry has been thrown into an attack simply for the sake of attacking with no specific mission. On at least one such occasion they were chopped to pieces by Japanese machine-guns.

Dysentery has taken a terrible toll—in hot weather the Chinese even drink the water from rice paddy fields.

The Fourteenth Air Force was the most substantial firepower the Chinese had and the eastern front offered the paradox of unsuccessful defensive action around despite clear superiority in the air.

U. S. S. Frank Knox Launched at Bath

BATH, Me., Sept. 17 (AP)—The name of Col. Frank Knox, late secretary of the navy, was given to a super-destroyer today in the presence of the navy's commander in chief, Admiral Ernest J. King.

The $10,000,000, 2,250-ton U.S.S. Knox was christened by the secretary's widow, Mrs. Annie Reid Knox of Manchester, N. H., at the Bath Iron Works Corporation.

Several thousand guests, including national political figures and business associates of the late secretary, attended the ceremony.

Admiral King's words were carried throughout the sprawling yard by loud speaker as he brought a message from President Roosevelt.

"At Quebec yesterday the president instructed me to say that he took great pleasure and had keen satisfaction in the naming of a destroyer for that great patriot and secretary of the navy—Frank Knox," the admiral said.

"Further, the president instructed me to say that he was confident that the ship bearing the name of Frank Knox had before her a career of valor, tenacity and success against the enemies of the United States," Admiral King concluded.

However, not words but deeds will decide the question."

ling men and women of America." "He will analyze," Lockwood told reporters, "the position in which American labor finds itself today under the system of overlapping regulations which has been built up by the Washington bureaucracy."

Drive for Berlin Gets under Way From New Point

1,000 Planes Carry New Invasion Force

By HOWARD COWAN

LONDON, Sept. 17 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower unleashed the powerful first Allied airborne army today sending more than 1,000 air transport and glider loads into Holland to the northern tip of the Siegfried line in a bold attempt to skirt it and drive for Berlin.

That clearly was the assignment of the sky soldiers—already reported in field dispatches to have driven the Germans from several Dutch towns near the Reich's frontier.

Land Near German Line

While supreme headquarters did not say where the thousands of American, British and Polish sky troopers landed, the Germans declared they hit Dutch soil in force at Nijmegen, twelve miles west and slightly north of where the already breached Siegfried line ends at Kleve.

Simultaneously, the British Second army broke across the Dutch frontier south of the landings in a great offensive timed perfectly with this first entirely airborne operation in military history.

The Germans said part of Lt. Gen. Lewis H. Brereton's airborne army came down at Tilburg and Eindhoven, about ten miles inside Holland and close to where the British Second is fighting up from the south.

A field dispatch said the British were two miles inside Holland and driving toward these cities.

315 Miles from Berlin

But the British airborne stroke appeared to have fallen at Nijmegen, which is on the Rhine and only six miles from the German frontier. Here Berlin is 315 miles to the east.

Some German accounts declared the airborne army had landed on both the north and south banks of the Rhine at Nijmegen.

From Kleve northward the Germans are believed to have counted on the North Sea instead of a steel and concrete wall to balk invasion.

While it was believed only a matter of time until the combined weight of these airborne divisions and Lt. Gen. Miles C. Dempsey's Second British army wheel on or around the Siegfried line, the United States First Army was hammering away through a hole in the fortifications twenty-six miles from the Rhinefront city of Cologne.

Tank Battles Raging

The German-controlled Scandinavian telegraphic bureau quoted a German military spokesman as saying that tank battles were raging between Allied forces and the Nazi defenders at Stouberg and Duren, towns more than twenty miles within the Reich on the road from Aachen to Cologne. The dispatch referred to a particularly big battle at Duren, a road junction 20 miles southwest of Cologne.

German commanders fell back on old World War I tactics and sent wave upon wave of infantry against the Americans fighting on the German side of the Siegfried line east of Aachen and these were cut down in a storm of fire.

"Assaulting waves faltered, then broke," Associated Press Correspondent Don Whitely reported.

"The Americans held every yard of their hard-earned ground. Nor had any breaches in the line been threatened."

Official silence cloaked other American thrusts into Germany, mainly in the Peum and Trier areas south of Aachen.

On Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's front the Third army fought through rain on the approaches to the upper Rhineland toward the French city of Strasbourg and seized Lunerville, twenty-five miles southeast of Nancy.

Metz, the holdout fortress on the Moselle river, was under continuous barrage. Tanks were crossing the muddy Moselle river south of the city.

20,000 Germans Surrender

Far behind this front, a "lost" German force of 20,000 men surrendered without firing a shot to the U. S. Ninth army, whose whereabouts were disclosed for the first time—at Beaune, eighteen miles southwest of Orleans. These forces were cut off by junction of the Third and Seventh armies.

Canadians on the French coast meanwhile opened up an assault on the port of Boulogne, made some penetrations and were still thrusting forward.

Rome's Police Chief Faces Trial Today

ROME, Sept. 17 (AP)—Pietro Caruso, Rome's police chief during the final four months of German occupation, will go on trial for his life tomorrow.

He is the first accused Italian collaborator to be brought before the tribunal for the punishment of Fascist crimes.

Caruso, 41, is said to have given Count Galeazzo Ciano, Mussolini's son-in-law, the coup de grace when the former foreign minister was shot at Verona. He also is accused of providing fifty of the 320 hostages whom the Nazis executed at the Adleitecane in reprisal for the bombing of an 88 camp.

"Liberal" and "Reactionary"

GOVERNOR BRICKER has emphasized something to which this newspaper has repeatedly referred, namely, the gross misuse of the terms "liberal" and "reactionary" by the New Dealers.

The New Dealers and their radical associates have appropriated the term "liberal" to describe their sort of government and have applied the term "reactionary" not only to all others, including the Jeffersonian Democrats who refuse to go along with their ideas.

The most liberal government the world has ever known is that in which the individual citizen is the source of all power. Governor Bricker said: "The American government was intended to be that kind of system. The most reactionary system of government is that in which the individual lives and has his being only by sufferance of the government. From its inception the New Deal has been moving in that direction. It believes that you, the people, are not competent to determine your own needs and are unable to govern yourselves. It reasons, therefore, that the government must order every act of your personal lives every day, from morning to night and from the cradle to the grave."

That is to say, the most reactionary administration in the history of this nation has been masquerading in the garb of "liberal" government. The brazen misrepresentation has misled many persons, but if they can but read deeply into the true meaning of these two terms they can see how much they have been fooled. If they can only realize that the major issue now confronting the people of this country is the freedom of the individual as against a collectivist philosophy of government, they will join with those who purpose to stand firm for the former as against the latter at the polls in November. Unmistakable distinction is understood and acted upon by the people of this country. We can expect to see the end of traditional freedom in this country.

Interesting Epitome Of American History

COMMENT on a curious publication attributed to the Office of War Information and said to be intended for distribution among the peoples of the United Nations, comes to hand. The publication is called "A Handbook of the United States of America."

A peculiar thing about it is that it presents a statement of which the most of us have been lamentably unaware. It states that in the last 2,000 years of recorded history only two women have made any worthwhile contribution to the development of the United States.

They were Jane Addams, a Nobel Peace prize winner, and — guess what? — Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, no less.

Our commentator said the OWI skipped George Washington entirely, in reference to the Revolution. Perhaps this was out of a delicacy of feeling for the British.

It is also would appear from among its 400 pages that Franklin D. Roosevelt is the only President ever inaugurated on March 4, and that Vice President Wallace made the only important speech ever made by a vice president of the United States. What it was, one cannot recall.

It is said that the book is being offered for sale in Great Britain but that the OWI does not permit its distribution in the United States. That would seem to be a rather natural precaution.

Pacific Fighting Is To The Bitter End

THE WAR IN EUROPE had moved to critical points, overshadowing all the momentous developments going on in the Pacific. Out in that area, some many thousands of miles away, American forces are beginning to give the Japanese a fearful beating.

The American public has been so much engrossed in the battering down of Germany that the Pacific has not achieved its full share of attention. Yet in that zone are being fought some of the greatest battles of the war.

One American navy man, name withheld, related to friends the story of a Japanese battleship being sunk off the coast of the Philippines. The Japanese battleship lay off shore and pumped shells into the Japanese positions while hundreds upon hundreds of carrier-based airplanes swept into the skies, dropping thousands of bombs.

"I know it's hard to believe," said this navy man, "but I honestly thought we were blowing that island right off the map. I didn't think there could possibly be anything left. It looked like one huge volcano. The task fleet we had was so big it defies description. Yet the Japanese fought our battle as if they were in a trench. We saw them in flames, still trying to ram our ships with their planes. They fight like mad to the very end."

That's the kind of war American men have to fight in the Pacific. No surrender there by commanders. Large bodies of troops. Fanatical.

Industry Can't Do It Alone

AMERICAN INDUSTRY, representing the National Association of Manufacturers, has pledged itself "to do everything within its power to produce and distribute better goods in greater volume at lower prices to more people, to make opportunity and jobs available to everyone."

In cooperation with industry, to maintain high level of peacetime production, will mean millions of jobs for returning G. I.'s and continuing employment for workers on the home front.

But it must be remembered that, even in war year 1944, manufacturing employs only 29.1 per cent of the workers in this country. Of the remainder, about twenty per cent are currently in agriculture. Construction, transportation, utilities, trade, distribution, finance and the so-called "service" industries (exclusive of the armed forces) account for nearly fifty per cent of all jobs.

Employment gains in all of these fields must keep pace with industrial expansion after the war.

And there is real opportunity for growth. It is not only more and better washing machines, refrigerators and cars that we want. We want increasingly abundant and nutritious food from our farms, shops where service is prompt, better laundries, better and cheaper transportation, finer recreational facilities, able-bodied men and women.

These things must contribute their share to the higher standard of living and the full employment we look for when the war is won. And national policy must be such as to enable all elements to co-operate with industry toward attainment of the desired objective.

Thrill Prevails and Will Aid Security

IN THESE TIMES of freely circulating money, it is interesting to read that savings by individuals between the end of 1939 and June 1, 1944, amounted to $100,000,000.00, one-half of which was accumulated in the last eighteen months, according to Commerce Department estimates. Savings during the first half of 1944 were at an annual rate of $2,000,000,000, which if continued would bring the nation's total savings account to considerably more than $15,000,000,000 by the end of 1944.

This shows that savings definitely are on the increase and reflects the extent to which the popular thrift impulse has been able to survive the ever-increasing cost of living and New Deal spending theory. Apparently, most people are making more money nowadays than they ever did in their lives. There do not appear to be any appreciable indications that they have slowed up their spending with the demand for consumer goods continuing far in excess of the supply.

The increased savings trend may be due to the fact that more and more persons are looking ahead to the postwar reconstruction period with its many opportunities for investment not only in standard home equipment items but in business opportunities. Thus many may be planning to go into business for themselves.

Whatever the uncertainty of the times ahead, the certainty that there will be plenty of places for the use of money is self-evident. If the nation has a total thrift account of $15,000,000,000 by the end of 1944 it will be that much more good in the matter of economic security.

Shall government direct the lives of our people, or shall it create conditions which will enable them, individually and hopefully, to find their own way? asks Governor Bricker. That is the vital question to be answered at the polls in November.

If you are a defeatist, you should vote the Roosevelt ticket; but if you are an optimist, and your own capacities, ably unaware it states that in the last 2,000 years of recorded history only two women have made any worthwhile contribution to the development of the United States.

They were Jane Addams, a Nobel Peace prize winner, and — guess what? — Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, no less.

Compulsory Postwar Military Training of Youth Is Criticized As American

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17. — An extraordinary public interest in the postwar compulsory military training plan has been evident in mail reaction to my suggestion Aug. 31 that other more democratic means of raising and maintaining the needed army might be found.

People generally appear to be thinking and searching for a plan, as indeed is the War department. There Gen. Marshall has amended or expanded War Secretary Stimson's simple plan for military training with a hunt for a program to build the postwar defense on a small standing army with a civilian reserve.

Marshall is unusually sensible and practical in his approaches to these problems (to wit the excellent mobilization point system) but he also wants to draft the youths through compulsion for a year of training.

Not Democratic

The army bills in Congress call for taking the youngsters at 17 or upon graduation from high school. Officers in charge say they want all youths drawn in, rich and poor, prospective clergymen, doctors, lawyers, technicians as well as poets. They think that by taking in everyone, under compulsion, they are following the democratic way.

They are not. The compulsory draft is the theory of regimentation, dictatorship, totalitarianism. The voluntary inducement system is the democratic theory, and it always has proved more efficient when intelligently directed.

The army seems a little sheepish on this point. Slightly, it shies away from the title "compulsory military training" to describe the plan, and calls it "universal military training." It is not to be universal, but it is compulsory.

These military statesmen are just beginning to get into the problem. Their deficient manpower, have long required a year in the army for youths. They have just jumped thoughtlessly on my opinions to

There were 1,081,852 males 17 years old in the United States in 1940. If the present year's military force we have in the field, but would they be an efficient army? Would you not have to build the army with other means? For war 17-year-old graduates would have to be trained all over again.

Brewers Rally in Ninth To Shade Reds in Pen-Mar Playoff Opener

Cumberland's Queen City Brewers came from behind in the ninth inning to edge out the Centerville Reds 8-7 in the 1944 Pen-Mar game series for the opener of the Baseball League championship yesterday at Centerville, Pa.

Trailing 7-4 going into the final frame, the last-half winners managed to count four runs or just enough to win the decision and give Bill Stevenson his fourth triumph of the season over the Pennsylvanians.

"Spike" Herboldsheim opened with a single to right but was thrown out at third on Bernard Baker's infield single. "Nick" Perlozzo lashed out a one-baser and "Buck" Winfield singled and stole second.

At this point, Alton Nave, the Reds' starting hurler, gave way to Glenn Evans, who yielded a single to Jim Angellatta, "Neb" George's fielder's choice was played too late at third and after Paul Emerick drew a base on balls, Evans gave way to Gene Fritz. Fritz, after striking out Stevenson, uncorked a home run to tie the game.

It took Stevenson only ten pitches to retire the Reds in the bottom of the ninth. He fanned Veryl Nave, George Cook and Glenns Street and wasted only one pitch in the process.

The Brewers counted twice in the first when Baker was hit by a pitched ball, Perlozzo tripled to left and "Buck" Winfield singled, and once in the third and seventh.

In the third, Herboldsheim was safe on an error, Baker sacrificed and "Buck" Winfield singled. A walk and "Buck" Winfield's triple produced the singleton in the seventh with Winfield being thrown out at home attempting to stretch the blow.

Centerville scored in all but three innings, getting one in the first when Street walked, stole second, took third on a wild throw by the catcher and went home on Alton Nave's outfield fly. In the second, Edward Thompson homered to deep right, Cecil Warnick singled, Veryl Nave fled out and George Cook singled.

Thompson's single, an error and an outfield fly gave the losers another run in the fifth while Alton Nave's triple to right-center and Pete Cook's single produced another tally in the fifth.

An error and stolen base and Street's single gave Centerville its seventh-inning counter and in the eighth, Roy Mickey singled and stole second and Pete Horwath singled.

Stevenson was helped over several rough places by three Brewer double plays. "Buck" Winfield, who drove in five runs with a triple and three singles in five trips, led the Queen City attack. Thompson was the only Red with more than one blow.

The second game of the series will be played next Sunday afternoon at 3:30 on the North End Playground field here. The box:

CUBS SHADE CARDINALS TWICE BY 2-1 SCORES

CHICAGO, Sept. 17 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs closed their home season by shading the St. Louis Cardinals twice by identical scores of 2 to 1 before 41,822 today.

Although the Redbirds suffered their seventh and eighth defeats in nine games, they moved to within one victory of their third straight pennant when the second place Pittsburgh Pirates divided two games with Cincinnati.

Chicago's largest baseball crowd of the season saw the Cubs' two ace southpaws bow to right-handers. Henry Wyse edged out Max Lanier in the first game, although the Cardinals outlived the Cubs, nine to seven, and Claude Passeau got the decision over Harry Brecheen when Andy Paikoff's sixth homer of the year counted two runs.

The victories were the thirteenth for both Cub hurlers.

Pittsburgh, Sept. 17 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates closed their home season by dividing a double bill with the Cincinnati Reds today before 19,823 fans.

Rip Sewell turned in his eighteenth win of the season as the Reds took the opener, 7 to 1. Frank McCormick's two-out single in the tenth sent Woodie Williams home to give the Reds a 2 to 1 victory in the nightcap.

Harry Gumbert triumphed over Fritz Ostermuller in a slab duel in the second game. The Pirates threatened in their half of the tenth but Dain Clay made a thrilling one-hand catch of Bob Elliott's bid for an extra-base hit and saved the game for the Reds.

The Merchants' Bowling League will open its 1944-45 season tomorrow night at 7:15 on the Diamond alley. The circuit is made up of the same teams which finished the 1943-44 season—Liberty Milk Company, Post's service station, Cement Products Company, Cumberland Cement and Supply Company, Howell Coal Company and Auto Accessories Corporation.

Frostburg Trims Firemen To Take Victory Honors

Frostburg American Legion tossers, who completed the regular season in second place, captured the 1944 championship of the Victory Junior Baseball League by defeating the Cumberland Iron Firemen, 7-1, on the Frostburg State Teachers' college field yesterday afternoon.

The contest brought the loop campaign to a close and followed a pair of preliminary series in which Frostburg eliminated Cumberland American Legion and the Firemen disposed of Lonaconing American Legion.

Jack Workman went the route for the Mountain City outfit and Jack Kauffman went the distance for the Firemen. Frostburg made most of its seven hits count while the Firemen, who poked out eight blows, had nine men stranded on the paths.

The Firemen tallied their only run in the second while Frostburg scored once in the fourth, twice in the fifth and then exploded for four markers in the eighth.

Bill Sonnenberg and Workman each had two hits for Frostburg while Lou Baker paced the Firemen with three for five. There were no extra-base blows. The box:

Tigers Grab Lead as Brownies Divide and Yankees Drop Pair

CLEVELAND, Sept. 17 (AP)—Detroit's Tigers surged into the American League leadership today by sweeping a doubleheader from the Cleveland Indians on a pair of brilliant pitching performances by Stubby Overmire and Rufus Gentry.

The Tigers notched the opener 7 to 2 on Overmire's six-hitter and annexed the afterpiece 3 to 0 as Gentry delivered a two-hit shutout. The twin triumph, coupled with St. Louis's split of a doubleheader with Chicago, gave the Bengals a margin of four percentage points over the Browns.

Manager Lou Boudreau secured the first hit off Gentry when he led off the ninth with a hard smash through the box. Shortstop Joe Hoover picked up the ball and fired it to first but Boudreau beat it out. After Pat Seery grounded into a double play, Ken Keltner delivered the only solid base smash of the game, a two-bagger to right-center.

The Tigers backed up Stubby Overmire's six-hit performance in the opener by utilizing all their eleven hits in run-making. Rudy York, with a triple, double and two singles, batted in three runs and scored one himself. Started Al Smith was the loser.

Overmire had a three-hit shutout until the ninth when he single by Boudreau and doubles by Keltner and Ray Mack accounted for a pair of runs.

Browns Relinquish Lead
ST. LOUIS, Sept. 17 (AP)—The St. Louis Browns dropped out of the first place position they had held since last night when they split today's doubleheader with the Chicago White Sox. The Browns won the first game, 5 to 1, but lost the nightcap, 8 to 2.

Bob Muncie, trying to win his first game since early August, held Chicago well in control until two fukes hit, an intentional walk, and a solid one-base smash brought three runs home in the seventh inning of the second contest. Both teams had scored once in the first frame.

The Sox added two in the eighth off Sam Zolack on two walks, a sacrifice, an error and a double steal. The final two runs came with two out in the ninth off Zolack and Sig Jakucki.

Vernon Stephens hit his nineteenth home run in the first inning of the opener with Al Zarilla on base to send the Browns away to a lead which they never lost. Don Gutteridge hit his second homer in two days and his third of the year in the seventh with the bases empty.

Thurman Tucker lined a four-base blow to the right field pavilion in the first inning of the nightcap.

Yankees Lose Ground
NEW YORK, Sept. 17 (AP)—The Yankees lost valuable ground in the American League race today by dropping two one run decisions to the Philadelphia Athletics, 5 to 4 and 2 to 1 before 51,235 cash customers, their second largest crowd of the year. Larry Rosenthal's pinch homer beat them in the opener, and Joe Berry's relief pitching stopped them in the nightcap.
